RECONSTRUCTION WORSE THAN WAR

Daughters of Confederacy Strongly Oppose Any Plan of "Jubilee"

AVERSE TO PROPOSAL

Anniversary of Surrender of Army of Northern Virginia Should be a Day Sacred to the South.

Richmond April 7.—A vigorous protest against the plan of holding a "jubilee" at Appomattox on the fiftieth anniversary of the surrender was unanimously adopted at a joint meeting of the local chapters of the Daughters of the Confederacy, held at Lee Camp Hall yesterday. The paper had been prepared for a meeting of Richmond Chapter, called for Saturday afternoon, but the heavy snowstorm that day prevented the attendance of a quorum of the membership, and the meeting was postponed.

The protest follows:

"Newspapers of recent date have printed an appeal issued by the commanders of the Union and Confederate Camps of Manassas, the president of the Bull Run Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and the president of the Manassas Business League. This appeal calls upon the citizens of Appomattox to arrange a jubilee celebration on the battlefield of Appomattox April 9, to commemorate the fifty years of peace between the North and the South. Later comes a statement from George C. Round, of the Manassas Post of Union Veterans, giving his idea that high noon of Appomattox Day begins a new era, and that all could celebrate, "not the surrender, but the birth of peace, which originated when the great-hearted Grant and the immortal Lee clasped hands at the McLean house."

"In response to these statements, the Daughters of the Confederacy of Richmond, having read the appeal, with all the reasons urged for the immediate consideration of carrying out the suggestions, would here and now record their most earnest request that the 9th of April be held as a sacred day in the hearts of our people, and not used as a day of jubilee and rejoicing. This day, the 9th of April, 1865, brought a cessation of hostilities and the surrender of the Confederate armies, but it brought not peace to the people of the South. Years of reconstruction followed, with horrors greater than those of the war. The outcome was accepted, and our men returned unto their lands to take up the difficult task of restoring their homes and fortunes. History will record their noble deeds, and today we see a land of peace and prosperity. Let the 9th of April be kept as a sacred memorial of our peerless Lee and his army beyond compare.

"Lord, God of hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget, lest we forget!"

NEED YOUNG MEN

A Shortage In Methodist Protestant Itinerary

Washington, April 7—Unless some provisions is made to fill the six or more vacancies in the itinerant roll of the church this year there is bound to be a shortage of ministerial talent when the appointments for the present year are made. This statement was made last night by President John S. Bowers, of Baltimore, who is here to preside over the eighty seventh annual conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, which convenes in the Rhode Island Avenue Church tomorrow morning.

EXECUTRIX'S NOTICE—Having qualified as executrix of the late ROBERT L. MONROE, this is to notify all persons having claims against the estate to present the same, properly authenticated, to the undersigned. All persons indebted to the estate are requested to make prompt settlement.

NEWS OF THE DAY

During religious services on Sunday afternoon a German aeroplane of the Taube type dropped bombs on the Newkerk Church near Ypres. There was a large congregation present and besides numerous cases of serious injuries suffered, twelve women were kiled outright. Abbe Reyaret, who was preaching at the time, was hit by flying debris and badly hurt. He died a few hours later.

In the primary election in Baltimore yesterday for city offices, Chas. H. Heinteman was nominated as the Republican candidate for mayor, defeating former United States District Attorney John Phillip Hill by over 3,000 majority. The vote was very light all over the city, as Mayor James H. Preston, the Democratic candidate, had no opposition; his nomination was a foregone conclusion.

Two bull terrier dogs stood guard for three hours last night over the dead bodies of Policeman Andrew Zaleha and his wife Mary in New York, and by vicious snaps kept at bay all persons who attempted to approach. Zaleha, ill and despondent, had killed himself. Unwilling that his wife should face the world alone, he had ended her life, as she lay asleep, before firing a bullet into his own brain. On the bed, in their night clothing, were the bodies of Zahela and his wife. At the foot were the two dogs, their fangs exposed ready to leap at the throat of any intruder.

Young Prinz Leopold, the elder son of King Albert, of Belgium, who is 13 1-2 years old, begged his father to allow him to enter the Belgian army. At length, the King consented, the prince joining a regiment of the line made glorious by its defense of Dixmude, where its flag was decorated with the Order of Leopold.

The independent labor party yesterday, by a vote of 234 to 9, adopted a resolution strongly condemning the action of certain members of the party who have been wokring to assist recruiting and at the same time speaking in public in justification of the war and of the foreign policy of the liberal government.

The entire Republican ticket of 28 aldermen, led by A. H. Frederick, for chairman of the board, was elected in St. Louis yesterday by a plurality estimated at 25,000.

The German Baltic fleet has been cut off from its base by its own mine field, which broke adrfit in a storm. A large number of mines have floated into neutral waters. The German fleet returning from a Russian expedition, found the mines dangerously thick, and decided to retire between the islands of Gothland and Oeland until the sweepers can clear the passage.

Rumors of Austria's desire to conclude a separate peace and of informal overtures made to Russia for its attainment are denied. Austria, it is alleged, as soon as she perceived the magnitude of the conflict she was instrumental in provoking, would gladly have composed her differences with Russia, but Germany burned her bridges and precipitated war. Turkey's alleged eagerness to conclude a separate peace and the tentative efforts about to be made in Switzerland are also pronounced untrue.

Curtis Guild, thrice governor of Massachusetts, and recently Ambassador to Russia, died yesterday of pneumonia at his home in Back Bay.

Remains of Colored Man Taken From River at Petersburg.

Petersburg, Va., April 7.—The body of Algie Malone, colored, who disappeared under mysterious and suspicious circumstances five weeks ago from his home in Pocahontas, was recovered Monday not far from the spot at which a clairvoyant had recently told friends of the decedent it had been thrown into the river by persons with whom he had had trouble.

Joe Harris, colored, was arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the murder of the man.

PLANS OF ALLIES MAY BE CHANGED

If Russia Wins, There is Likely to be No Advance in France

AWAITING THE ISSUE

Armies in the West Watching Outcome of Attempt of Czar to Force the Carpathians.

London, April, 7—Although the French are conducting a sustained offensive between the Meuse and the Moselle in an effort to dislodge the Germans from St. Mihiel, the southernmost point of their line, the allied armies as a whole appear to be awaiting the outcome of Russia's gigantic plan to force the Carpathian barrier.

Germany is believed to be pouring troops into Hungary even to the extent of weakening her forces in Flanders and Vienna tonight notes the presence and recounts the source of German and Austrian troops in the Laborcza Valley.

There is less talk in England of the spring advance in France and Belgium, and an increasing appreciation of the task Russia is attempting. This leads to a belief in some quarters that the allies in the west reckoning on the heavy cost incident to smashing the German line there, perhaps may seek only to hold their ground in the belief that the Russians will invade Hungary, ultimately to join hands with the allied forces working northward through Serbia.

Thus, what their opponents regard as the weakest of the Teutonic allies, Austro-Hungary, would be invaded without the loss of life that an attempt to drive the Germans from France and Belgium would entail. Meanwhile, it is argued that the bombardment of the Dardanelles will be continued as the shortest, if most costly, method of crushing Turkey. Reports that Smyrna again has been bombarded lack official confirmation, and the absence of news from the Dardanelles is taken by some to mean that important operations are under way.

British forces in occupying Warmbad, German Southwest Africa, have taken what is considered the southern capital and the terminus of the railway system.

BLAMES GERMAN INTRIGUE

Japanese Premier Explains Trouble in Treating With China

Tokio, April, 7—The Asahi has published a news dispatch saying that Count Okuma, the Japanese premier, while addressing a group of government officials at Kozu, said the negotiations of Japan with China had been complicated by the attempt of Germany to make China believe that Japan was designing to annex China as she had done Korea. This Chinese illusion was being dispelled the premier declared. The negotiations will not be so difficult as has been rumored, he said, and he expected to see the conclusion some time during the month of April.

Returns from 1,400 precincts out of 1,566 indicate that William Hale Thompson, Republican, was elected mayor of Chicago yesterday by 130,000 plurality over Robert M. Sweitzer, Democrat. Other city offices were won by Republicans by about 75,000 plurality, and the city council is probably Republican for the first time in several years. The women suffrage votes were divided between the candidates in about the same proportion as the men's.

SHOT BY NEGRO JOY RIDERS.

Virginia Injured During Revolver Duel Between Sheriff and Auto Speeders at Rosslyn

Charles Dunning, 16, living near Fort Myer, Alexandria County, was shot just above the left shoulder blade in a revolver duel between Sheriff A. H. Barbor and Deputy Sheriffs Charles Ward and W. C. Pickett of Alexandria County, Va., and an automobile party of five colored persons four of them women, in Rosslynr last night.

The fight was in the main street of Rosslyn, and broke out when the county authorities attempted to arrest the party for speeding. Dunning was an innocent bystander, and was near the Rosslyn Bank when struck down by a bullet.

The sheriff and his deputies—one of whom, Pickett was suffering from injuries received in a fight with a crowd of negroes at Johnson Hill early yesterday morning—were in Rosslyn on business, when a big red touring car plunged down the main thoroughfare. Pickett ran into the street to head them off.

The driver of the car slowed down when he saw their stars but as they approached, threw on high speed and attempted to break through It is said Pickett, some distance ahead, drew his revolver. The driver did not stop. Then commenced the fight.

Before they could get away, the machine was boarded and brought to a stop. All five were lodged in jail charged at present with violating the speed laws.

Dunning was taken to Georgetown University Hospital, where the bullet was removed. His condition is not serious. It has not been determined who fired the bullet which injured him.

RAZE JAIL TO FREE YOUTH.

April Fool Joke Causes Shooting and Melee in Indiana Town.

Elnora, Ind., April 7.—A group of indignant citizens Monday tore down the town's wooden jail and released Gray Farris, a student telegraph operator and a well known young man, held a prisoner in it. As a result of the melee one man was shot and is in a critical condition. The trouble dates to when Farris played an April fool joke on Town Marshal Matt Cox. Cox found out about the joke early Monday and put young Farris in the jail. Clifford Farris, trustee of Elnora township and an uncle of the young man, went before Justice Laughlin and offered bond. He also offered to pay the young man's fine, if there was any to pay, and then demanded his release. Cox became angry at this and started to shoot at the elder Farris. Arthur Dixon, a hardware merchant, trying to interpose between the men, got in the way of three bullets from Cox's gun. He is in a serious condition. A short time after this citizens tore down the jail and let out young Farris.

READING BY MRS. GERRY.

Popular Authoress to be Heard in Alexandria.

Mrs. Margarita Spalding Gerry, the well known authoress, has kindly consented to give a reading at the concert for the benefit of the Children's Home at Elks' Hall on April 15th. Being the mother of three interesting children, she is appreciative in everything concerning child welfare and is ever ready to aid in furthering this cause. Mrs. Gerry's stories are familiar to readers of Harper's and other leading magazines, besides which several of her recent books are on the list of the Alexandria Library. Among them are "As Caesar's Wife," and "The Masks of Love."

Mrs. Gerry is the widow of Dr. Philip Gerry, himself a man of letters, to whose memory an alcove is dedicated in the Public Library of Washington. Heretofore her readings have been adapted to drawing room entertainment, and as this is her first appearance in this line, as well as in Alexandria, it is to be hoped a representative audience may gather to hear her and thus swell the proceeds of a worthy cause.

FAREWELLS ARE SAID

Scenes of Activity on Converted Cruiser, But Plans of Commander Are Still Unknown.

Norfolk, Va., April 7.—Official announcement is lacking, but it is believed that Commander Thierichens, of the German cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, has notified the Federal authorities that he will intern his vessel at Newport News.

Conditions last night favored an attempt by the Eitel to get to sea, but the commander made no move. He did, however, alarm British watchers by a display of activity which seemed to presage a bath.

Reports flew thickly that the Eitel had received wireless messages and that its own radio apparatus was working. Government officials said this was not true.

Newport News, Va., April 7.—Shortly before midnight last night everything appeared to be in readiness for the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich to leave the Newport News Shipyard.

Collector of Customs Hamilton, who had visited the Eitel during the evening, was given a jovial farewell by the officers of the merchant raider, and the first officer invited him to stay aboard, and said:

"I wish you would remain and go with us."

Commander Thierichens, it was learned, had bade farewell to American government officials in his visits to the battleship Alabama yesterday and to the custom-house. The collector, in turn, wished the German commander and his officer bon voyage.

At 11 o'clock yesterday Admiral Beatty, commandant at the Norfolk Navy-Yard, transmitted a radiogram to the custom house here. Collector Hamilton remained at his office waiting developments. Attaches of the office were keeping in touch with the German ship as closely as possible. That no one seemed to know exactly the plans of the German commander was apparent.

A newspaper boat which steamed up the river, the only vantage point from wihch the raider could be seen, was not picked up by the German cruiser's searchlights, as had been the case on previous occasions. Even the naval tug Patuxent did not flash hen lights until after the dispatch boat had passed. On board ship there appeared to be activity but there were few lights, and windows and ports were heavily curtained.

One hour after midnight the Prinz Eitel Friedrich still was at her pier. Officials here were in constant communication with Washington, the battleship Alabama and the Norfolk Navy Yard. Whether the commander of the German cruiser would make an effort to dash for the open sea or submit to interment still was unknown, but indications were general that the ship soon would leave the shipyard.

BATTLED FOR THEIR LIVES.

Deputy Sheriff of Alexandria Probably Fatally Wounded by Blow From Axe.

As was stated in the Gazette, Chief Deputy Sheriff Harry Palmer and Undersheriffs Richard Langley and W. O. Pickett, of Alexandria county, battled for their lives against heavy odds yesterday morning when turned upon by a mob of nearly fifty whisky-crazed negroes in a "blind tiger," near the Highway Bridge, after four of the party had been arrested. The fight closed when Deputy Langley was struck down by an axe and his left jaw almost severed, the negroes becoming frightened by the blood.

Deputy Palmer called the two assistants to his aid when word was received at his residence that a crowd of negroes were carousing at a "blind tiger" at Johnsons Hill, a mile and a half below the Highway Bridge, on the Virginia side. According to the police, the locality is notorious.

The three deputies drove to the alleged barroom in an automobile. They arrested and handcuffed four colored men and started to bring them out of the house. At the bottom of the stairs they heard a commotion, and looking up, saw the drunken patrons coming for them. So sudden was the attack that the deputies were surrounded and hard pushed before they could draw their revolvers.

The fight took on its serious aspect when a negro pushed his way toward the deputies, carrying an axe above his head. He struck at Palmer, who dodged. The next blow was aimed at Pickett, who also escaped. The negro was successful in his third attack, the axe striking Langley, cutting through his left jaw bone and slashing down through his cheek. If the blow had not been deflected, the blade undoubtedly would have cut into Langley's skull.

When he felt the mob dispersed, the hand-cuffed men escaping. So dazed were Pickett and Palmer by blows on their heads and by knife wounds that they made no attempt to fire their revolvers when their arms were freed. Palmer was reeling and was assisted to the automobile by Pickett. He returned and carried Langley away.

Langley was taken to Emergency Hospital, Washington. Pickett is the least seriously injured. Langley has not recovered unsciousness.

When word was received by Sheriff Barbour, a posse was formed. The man hunt started several hours before daylight. Late last night twenty men had been arrested.

BUILDING BE RETAINED

San Francisco Will Perpetuate American Shrine When Exposition Ends

Richmond, April 7—The Virginia Building at the Panama Exposition San Francisco, is to be made a permanent building in the city following the close of the exposition.

Such is the announcement contained in San Francisco newspapers after the formal dedication of the building there last month. The suggestion was made by one of the members of the directorate and at the meeting the proposition met with universal favor.

The idea is to move the building when the exposition shall have come to an end and place it in some of the parks of the city. There are very many persons in that city and State who are proud to boast that they are descendants of Virginians, and as the building is a reproduction in detail of the American shrine, Mt. Vernon, the desire to perpetuate the same in that city meets with instant favor and approval.

FORGING TO HUNGARY

Petrograd Claims Annihilation of Two Hanover Battalions—Capture Guns and Ammunition.

Petrograd, April 7—Russian armies rolling down on Hungary have captured more than 60,000 Austrians and Germans in the last week of fighting in the Carpathians, according to figures furnished by the war office today.

An official statement announced that in the Balierod-Uzsok pass section alone the captives in seven days' fighting totaled 389 officers and 33,155 men, and that 17 cannon and 102 rapid firers, as well as large quantities of ammunition had been taken.

Westward, in the fighting for the Lupkow pass, an equal number of prisoners have been taken, the number not yet available.

Official dispatches report important victories for the Slavs in the new offensive against Bukowina. They were received several hours after the war office announced decided gains for the Russians in the capture of the Rostok pass and the village of Smolnik and Orosz Ruska, the latter town on the Hungarian side of the mountains and midway between the Lupkow and Uzsok passes.

After a battle that began last Wednesday, the right wing of General Ivanoff's army captured the village of Okna, eighteen miles northeast of Kolamea.

"By a furious attack with fixed bayonets, our detachment captured the enemy's positions annihilating two Hanover battalions," said the official statement. "We took twenty one officers 1,000 men an doight guns.

CHRISTIANS IN DANGER

Conditions in Urumiah, Persia, Not Encouraging

Julfa, Province of Erivan, Transcaucasia, Russia, April 7 —After several days of investigation in the Urumiah district of Northwestern Persia a correspondent made his way to Julfa, over the frontier in Russia, to file this dispatch.

It is the opinion of well informed observers that the situation of Christians in Urumiah probably will become more dangerous in a fortnight or so. When the rainy season comes to an end, which will be in about two weeks, large movements of Kurdo-Turks are expected and wandering tribes of Kurds will pour down into the valleys to the west of Lake Urumiah, according to the traditional customs at harvest time. Already there have been some collisions between Kurds and Christians at a point near Kotur, which is to the west of the river.

It is currently reported that Turko German emissaries have been active in rousing the Kurds. It is declared with authority in Urumiah that the German Embassy at Teheran has been supplying a German resident of Urumiah with money and instructions how to use it, and a rich Urumian landowner, Medji Sultan, has received 20,000 Turkish pounds (about $90,000) from the Turks.

Following the receipt of funds from the German Embassy the German resident of Urumiah in question started to bring the chiefs of the Kurds into some form of organization. At the same time the commander-in-chief of the Turkish forces opposite the Persian Province of Azebaijan, Ogevdet Pasha by name, was engaged in organizing Kurds and other Mussulman volunteers. Crowds of Christian refugees are at present returning from the Caucasus to their destroyed homes at Dilman (a town 50 miles northwest of Urumiah.)

INDUSTRY THREATENED

Textile Mills Must Stop Unless Dyestuffs Come in

Washington, April 7—Representatives of American textile manufacturers, headed by former Congressman Metz, told White House and State Department officials yesterday that "the end is in sight" for exportations of American textile mills unless the government can do something to bring dyestuffs out of Germany.

They were assured by Secretary Tumulty and Counseler Lansing that the question would be taken up for further efforts. The manufacturers told officials that the supply of dyestuffs in the United States was now practically exhausted and that unless more could be imported many mill operatives would lose their jobs or have their earning capacity greatly reduced.

NO FEAR OF APPENDICITIS.

Organ Removed From Dove by Bullet of Pistol.

Charles L. Dove of Accotink, Va., who was shot by Harvey Nash, colored, Monday morning, will suffer no anxiety from appendicitis when he shall have recovered. The bullet from Nash's pistol removed Dove's appendix with nearly the precision of a surgeon's knife. This discovery was made in the progress of an operation by Dr. Samuel B. Moore in an effort to trace the bullet. Besides clipping off Dove's appendix, the ball perforated his intestines several times and is supposed to be lodged near the spine, a slight paralysis in one leg having developed in the patient. Every effort is beng made to prevent complications that might prove fatal. As has been stated in the Gazette, the shooting took place in front of the Accotink postoffice. Nash left the neighborhood immediately and Dove was hurried to this city in an automobile. Stories of the shooting vary. One is to the effect that Nash shot through the pocket of his jean "jumper" and then hurried toward the tracks of the Washington Southern Railway.

HORRORS OF THE COMING SUMMER.

While the wholesale slaughter now going on in the eastern and western war zones in Europe is appealling and near-famine conditions reported here and there, it is absolutely certain that another horror (plague) is to add to human woes almost as soon as summer sets in. The following from the Charleston, S. C., News and Courier shows what may be naturally expected during the warm season; now almost at our doors:

"The national Red Cross headquarters would not sound so terrible a warning as that which it has just issued if the peril which it points out were not real. The Red Cross sees the possibility of such a plague in Europe as the world has never witnessed before. Its warnings is one to make humanity shudder, to bring pallor to the cheek, to create a new and keener realization of the horror of this unspeakable nightmare of war.

"There is the eloquence of despair [illegible] in its description of the menace: 'With much of Continental Europe in a highly unsettled state, with fields and trenches drenched with blood; with shallow graves of thousands of dead scattered throughout the war zone; with vermin and filth on every hand; with hundreds of thousands of wounded being cared for in a pitifully inadequate way, a vast number of them having infected wounds, and with the approach of warm weather and attending flies and mosquitoes, Europe may well be gravely apprehensive—fearful that an unprecedented plague will sweep the Old World.'

"That is not mere hysteria—a ghastly phantom which can have no reality. The red cross experts are well qualified to estimate the peril of which they speak; and when they say that it is real and imminent, there is [illegible] their judgment [illegible] even the most admirably scientific sanitation methods can hold disease in check when summer comes to the vast charnel house into which Europe is being converted. Servia is an example of what may presently be witnessed on a much larger scale.

"Servia is in the grip of typhus and of typhoid. Already the deaths from typhus have reached a total of 50,000 and the disease is spreading rapidly in spite of the heroic efforts of surgeons and nurses, many of whom are Americans who have volunteered for this perilous service."

PROTEST AGAINST DINNER SPEECHES.

William H. Taft, while President of the United States, returned to the White House on one occasion after having been on a trip to several cities in each of which he was feted and called upon for remarks after collations had been disposed of. Upon taking his seat at the table in the executive mansion he smiled upon the company and said: "Well, I am glad to be permitted to eat dinner once more without having to make a speech."

Many persons forced to the front, through no efforts of their own, will sympathize with the former occupant of the White House. The pleasures of social gatherings are often impaired to some who know when the cigars shall have been lighted they will be expected to say something for the edification or the amusement of the revellers. Such victims generally wish Mahometan manners were the custom in America. Among the followers of the prophet it is regarded as illmannerly to speak at table, everything being carried on pantomically.

Those who are disposed to shrink from prominence will rejoice to learn that there is a movement on foot to put an end to after dinner speaking.

That we are entering upon a new era of social life, an era bringing with it woman suffrage, abolition of child labor, prohibition, and better conditions for the working class, was the statement of L. R. Geisenberger, deputy supreme regent and installing officer of the Royal Arcanum, at the annual banquet of the Areanumites of the District of Columbia at the Ebbitt last night.

Mr. Geisenberger declared that in addition to these new conditions the abolition of after-dinner speeches would follow and people would be allowed to enjoy the feasts without being kept nervous fearing they will be called upon to speak.

TIME-HONORED EXCUSE.

"Military necessity" compelled the commander of the German submarine to sink the British ship Falaba without waiting for all her passengers to get off the vessel, according to a message from the Berlin foreign office made public by the German Embassy in Washington yesterday. Leon C. Thrasher, an American citizen, was one of those who lost their lives. The "military necessity" referred to in the German statement appears to have consisted in the fact that "other ships came up" while the crew and passengers of the Falaba were leaving her. The approach of other ships in connection with the charge that the British government has advised its merchantmen to arm and to attack German submarines, is advanced as the "military necessity" which required the German commander to sink the Falaba with many non combattants on board.

Many brutal acts have been committed in this world under the pretense of military expediency—e g., the devastation of the Valley of Virginia during the war between the states.

Political necessity is also urged when wars are precipitated, and the present clash in Europe may be traced to this origin.

The world at large knew but little of the inside history which brought about the war between France and Germany in 1870. It was generally believed France went off half-cocked, but the present conflict has brought out facts which tend to show that Germany was the aggressor in that instance. Without sitting in judgment upon the charge that Count Bismarck forged the dispatch which forced France to declare war, but that Germany was anxious for a conflict with Napoleon III at that time in order that the work of forming the North German Confederation might not be impeded seems to be a fact. It is well known that Napoleon was inimical to that confederation, and from the German viewpoint, he had to be disposed of.

A pro German periodical published in this country in referring to relations between France and Germany during the latter sixties says:

"French interference prevented a [illegible] unification, and the latter could not be attained until French [illegible] mony had been disposed [illegible] marck actually precipitated [illegible] ict at a time favorable to the country whose destinies he was [illegible], he did his duty as a statesman.

Bismark on December 3, 1850, in the commencement of his parliamentary career, before the Prussian "Landtag," said:

"It is easy for a statesman to swim with the popular current, and decide on war, and, at the same time, comfortably to sit in his easy chair or deliver thundering speeches, whilst the grenadier who bleeds to death on snowy plains has to decide whether the statesman's scheme brings glory and victory or defeat and shame. Such an attitude is the easiest in the world, but woe to that stateman who in these times does not search for a reason why he goes to war,—a reason that must remain valid even after the war."

When the iron chancellor was in the sere and yellow leaf and nearing the end of his life he seemed to be laboring under some annoying reminiscences. Among other things he uttered these significant words: "I was the cause of the death of eighty thousand men. But this has been settled with my Maker." His reveries may have been put on the part he played in 1870.

WIDE SPREAD INTEREST IN WAR MOVING PICTURES TO BE SHOWN HERE

Arrangements Made For Children to See Pictures Saturday Afternoon at Special Matinee

Modern warfare as it really is, will be shown by F. Tennyson Neely in its panorama of fighting facts with several thousand feet of motion film at the Opera House this week. The Alexandria Gazette has induced Mr. Neely to come to Alexandria after closing his engagament at the Belasco Theater in Washington, where Mr Neely's pictures were shown at eight consecutive performances. All the press of Washington praised the wonderful and thrilling pictures, and Mr. Neely's fascinating account of the desperate struggle now being waged in the war zone.

Mr. Neely is a southerner. His late father was Rev. George Washington Neely, of Mocksville, N. C.

Mr. Neely will likely address the children of the various schools at the school houses and will give a special lecture at 3 p. m. Saturday, April 10th at which time in addition to all the war pictures will be shown motion pictures of a tour through Yellowstone Park. Mr. Neely made a tour of the Yellowstone with Col. Theodore Roosevelt many years ago. All school children are to be admitted at 5 cents each for Saturday.

Mr. Neely, who ic lecturing about "The Great War," was once one of the best known publishers in the United States. He began his business career in Indianapolis, but soon established branches in Chicago, New York, and London. He made a specialty of paper-covered novels, which were sold on trains all over the country. Among the many foreign authors he popularized in this country were Count Lyoff Tolstoi and Emile Zola. During the panic of 1898 his business collapsed, leaving him without a dollar.

During the years of his publishing he had traveled all over Europe, visiting authors and prominent people. Over twenty years ago he was granted an interview with the kaiser.

It was therefore natural that he should turn to lecturing. When trouble started in Mexico he was there, and he brought back pictures that deeply stirred the committee on foreign affairs when he showed them here before the committee. Since the great war started he has devoted his time to that subject, and his years of travel in Europe have been of great value in his work.

Among the features of Mr. Neely's lectures are an attack by a submarine against a dreadnought ,soldiers crossing the swollen Meuse, a military aviator in action and troops firing at him, presentation of Iron Crosses on the firing line, hand to hand conflicts, the Kaiser and Von Hindenburg at the front, artillery duels and scenes showing how the soldiers live.

It would be useless to recapitulate all of the remarkable scenes to be shown. The important point is that the pictures are new and genuine. Then after all one must not forget the lecturer, Mr. F. Tennyson Neely, who makes the pictures doubly interesting because he knows his Europe like a book. Thirty years of travel have splendidly equipped him for this work. He is well remembered for his stirring talk on Barbarous Mexico.

To aid the excellent charity at St. Paul's Church on Thursday night Mr. Neely has volunteered to assist in entertaining by a brief of five or ten minute neutral talk on the real cause of the great war.

The Gazette has secured the Opera House for these lectures, which will be given at 8:15 P. M. on Friday and Saturday nights. The admission is main floor 20 cents and gallery 10. Reserved seats at Warfield's drug store..

Matinee on Saturday at 3 p. m. Prices are the same except for school children who will be admitted to all parts of the house at 5 cents.

DESPERADOES CAUGHT

Danville, Va., April 7—News was received here Monday afternoon of a thrilling sequence of events which occurred on Easter Sunday at Stuart the county seat of Patrick County. Jim and Sam Corn, aged twenty five and thirty years, respectively, wanted at Stuart on charges of felonious assault on Sunday morning were found near the outskirts of the town, and an attempt was made to arrest them. Outwitting the officers who went to make the arrest, the fugitives escaped, and, instead of making for the open country, they went to Stuart, and marching up Main Street, armed with a shotgun and a revolver, shouted defiance to every one they saw.

The uproar soon attracted a crowd which, however, did not seem anxious to aproach the men. Mayor Bailey, notified by telephone, hurriedly called up other officers, and, armed with a rifle, he set out alone to the scene of the trouble. On arriving he found the fugitives had made the their way out of the town but Mayor Bailey, unaided, pursued them and caught up with them. After repeatedly calling on the men to surrender, he fired at them continuously until he had exhausted all of his ammunition. Returning to Stuart, Mayor Bailey organized a posse, and the squad of men started out after the Corns.

Overtaken a mile from Stuart, the fugitives barricaded themselves behind a fence on the crest of a hill and opened fire on the posse, which spreading out and seeking cover, returned it heavily. The pursuers seeing that the two men had the advantage over them, divided, with the intention of surrounding them on the hilltop. While they were doing this the Corns made a new break for liberty. They made for the river. They tried to ford it at a deep spot and while floundering in the swollen stream members of the posses forded the river at a shallow spot, and thus the two Corns were caught in a trap.

The men did not give up easily. They had kept their weapons dry, and, standing in the water, they began trying to pick off their pusuers. In the volley that answered their fire Sam Corn was struck in the hip, and the current threatened to sweep him away. While the posse was trying to rescue Sam alive Jim Corn made off up the river and was found an hour later hiding beneath the river bank. None of the pursuers was wounded. The two Corns were taken back to Patrick County jail, where they are now held.

DIES SAVING WIFE AND CHILD.

Merchant of Falmouth, Va., Overcome After Getting Them From Burning Building.

Fredericksburg, Va., April 7.—William Snellings, 33 years old, a merchant of Falmouth, Va., one mile from here, was burned to death saving his wife and child in a fire which completely destroyed the residence of Dr. C. L. Bradshaw, of that place.

The Bradshaw house was occupied by Dr. Bradshaw, Snellings, and his wife and child. The fire broke out about 4 o'clock yesterday morning. Snellings, when awakened, found all escape cut off except through a second story window. He succeeded in lowering his wife and child to safety and had turned back to secure some of his effects when the window dropped and he was overcome by the smoke before he could reopen the window.

PLUNGES THROUGH DRAW

Newark, N. J., April 7—Three young men, members of the Montclair Academy Alumni Association were drowned yesterday when an automobile in which they were riding with four others plunged through an open drawbridge into the Passaic river.

Gordon Knapp, of East Orange; Clarence Hauton and Eugene Stevens were killed.

The men were returning home from a dinner in New York and were given a ride in the automobile by William J. Bittles, Jr. who was saved with three others. A gateman at the drawbridge was knocked into the water and was rescued but suffered severe injuries.

ROBERTS FOUND GUILTY

Terre Haute Mayor and 26 Others Convicted of Election Fraud

Indianapolis, April 6—Mayor Donn M. Roberts of Terre Haute and all except two of the other 26 defendants in the election conspiracy case who were found guilty by a jury in the Federal court here yesterday, had returned to their homes last night to remain until Monday morning when they will be sentenced by judge Anderson. In the meantime preparations for an appeal were being made by the attorneys for the convicted men. Eighty nine others have pleaded guilty.

The trial and the investigation which preceded it has cost the Government approximately $12,000. The expense for witnesses for trial was estimated at $5,000.

ROBBERS KILL THREE

Triple Tragedy Enacted in New York Restaurant

New York, April 7.—A triple tragedy occurred in the restaurant at Fifty-sixth avenue early yesterday when safe crackers murdered the proprietor, Otto Zinn, and two employes. The murders were committed with a meat cleaver wielded with almost superhuman force.

Zinn was aroused by a crash in the basement of his restaurant and descended from his living quarters to investigate. After he had been gone about fifteen minutes, his wife became alarmed and made her way down stairs. In the basement a ghastly sight met her eyes. Three blood-spattered corpses, with the skulls crushed, lay upon the floor. Beside the body of Zinn were the corpses of Stephen Bovorisky, a dish washer, and Broman Held, a porter.

The murderers, for the police believe there were more than one man in the gang, escaped without trying to secure the $1,000 in the safe.

A watchmen told the police he had seen two men emerge from an alley alongside of Zinn's restaurant early in the morning.

At the same time another murder was attempted by a bandit in Harlem, when Edward J. Wenk, a confectioner, was shot and seriously wounded by a robber. The robber escaped with $40.
